

Building Confidence Accreditation

We have recently gained the Achilles Building Confidence Accreditation following an all-embracing two-day audit. Building Confidence is a supplier pre-qualification and competency accreditation required by Skanska and many other national contractors and client organisations are intending to follow suit, so hopefully we are ahead of our competition in this respect. We have achieved this accreditation not just for M&E Projects, but the whole company.

In order to successfully gain the Building Confidence Accreditation, all our systems and processes including Health, Safety, Quality, Environmental and Equal Opportunities had to be of a high standard, which was confirmed by our successful audit.
